

Pen-Den 2 Trail - 7.3 miles

From Penistone to Denby Dale, you follow parts of the Trans Pennine Trail and Penistone Boundary Walk, then pick up a section of another spur of the Trans Pennine trail. The route takes in the scenic upper Don valley before climbing to Royd Moor, heading on to Ingbirchworth and Upper Denby then finally dropping down into the Dearne valley and Denby Dale. A very enjoyable, good day's walk with much to see along the way.

Points of Interest along the way

Trans Pennine Trail (TPT)

The TPT runs from Southport to Hornsea, from the Irish Sea to the North Sea. This part of the trail is suitable for wheelchair-users, walkers, cyclists and horse riders. Of particular interest is the section from Julie's Cafe to the bridge over Manchester Road, you may notice it feels soft! The surface is made from a recycled rubber material based on used car tyres. There is a similar but shorter section behind Royd Moor Reservoir.

Bullhouse Colliery

The River Don was a salmon river in the past but that changed with the industrial revolution. Bullhouse Colliery was located to the LHS of the TPT just past the green steel bridge. The main mine was sunk in 1886 and coal extracted until 1957. During that time mine water containing high levels of iron was pumped directly into the River Don resulting in pollution from ochreous yellow deposits - the river was completely dead for several miles downstream. A treatment lagoon was installed in 1998 and since then the river quality has improved dramatically with high hopes today of salmon returning.

Royd Moor Viewing Point

The viewing point is constructed in the style of a pin-fold. Its location offers spectacular panoramic views. To the east lie South, West and North Yorkshire. To the west, the moors of the Pennines stretch from south to north. It is a good place for a sit down to take in the views. On a clear day, with no haze on horizon, you can see the tops of the support pillars to the Humber Bridge. Look in the direction of Hull which is given in the central steel dial.

Amenities

At Penistone, as well as numerous shops, Julie's Cafe at the side of the Trans Pennine Trail is a great place to stop for a drink and a bite to eat, as there is nothing on the route until you reach Upper Denby 6 miles away. In Upper Denby the George PH is not too far away from the route in the centre of the village, a warm welcome awaits. Denby Dale offers a wide range of supplies and refreshments.

The Route

The walk along the Trans Pennine Trail has a good soft surface. The footpath up to Royd Moor and down to the reservoir can be muddy in places. There are stiles to negotiate, but mostly gates which are easy. Stout footwear is recommended. Total ascent and descent is 965ft and 1044ft, the highest point being Royd Moor at 1081ft. Allow 3.5 to 4 hours walking time.
